OTHER CAMPUS EVENTS

Friday, February 19, 2016

10:00 a.m. - 5:00 p.m.  Pastures Green and Dark Satanic Mills: The British Passion for Landscape
Princeton University Art Museum

The British passion for landscape – already present in the literary works of Milton, Shakespeare, and even Chaucer – began to dominate the visual arts at the time of the Industrial Revolution. In his poem “Jerusalem” (1804), William Blake wrote of both “England’s green and pleasant land” and the “dark satanic mills” of its new industrial cities.

By Dawn’s Early Light: Jewish Contributions to American Culture from the Nation’s Founding to the Civil War
Princeton University Art Museum

Living in an age when Jews are fully integrated into so much of America’s public and popular culture, it is difficult to imagine a time before they shone on the stage and printed page. Such a future for Jews was scarcely imaginable in the crucible years after the birth of the United States. In the colonial period, there was little precedent for Jews speaking for themselves vocally and volubly in the public arena. At the dawn of the Republic, they were new to American public life.

11:00 a.m.  Women’s Swimming & Diving Ivy Championships
DeNunzio Pool

5:30 p.m.  Shabbat Service
Center for Jewish Life, Hillel, 70 Washington Road

6:30 p.m.  Shabbat Dinner
Center for Jewish Life, Hillel, 70 Washington Road

7:00 p.m.  When Dawn Breaks
An adaptation of One Thousand and One Nights. Encounter a world of opposites through the ancient story of Scheherazade from One Thousand and One Nights in a brand new immersive theatrical experience.
Murray Dodge Theater

7:00 p.m.  Women’s Hockey vs. Rensselaer
Hobey Baker Rink

7:00 p.m.  Men’s Basketball vs. Yale
Jadwin Gym
Friday, February 19, 2016, continued

8:00 p.m.  The Midtown Men
Four stars from the original Broadway cast of Jersey Boys are together again to bring to life favorite “Sixties Hits” from The Beatles, The Beach Boys, Motown, The Four Seasons, and more. Matthews Theatre; for tickets call McCarter Theater at 609-258-ARTS (2787)

8:00 p.m.  Raks O Presents: Dawn
Raks O, Princeton’s Belly Dance Troupe, presents its 16th annual spring show, Dawn. It’s a dawn of a new chapter, so join us this year as we incorporate many modern and fusion elements, while preserving the traditional beats. You can definitely anticipate a great show with a vibrant galore of veils, swords, golden canes and much fun! Frist Performance Theatre; tickets are available for $10 at the Frist Ticket Office

10:00 p.m.  When Dawn Breaks
An adaptation of One Thousand and One Nights. Encounter a world of opposites through the ancient story of Scheherazade from One Thousand and One Nights in a brand new immersive theatrical experience. Murray Dodge Theater; for tickets call Theatre Intime at 609-258-5155

11:00 p.m.  Fuzzy Dice Improv Comedy Show
Frist Performance Theater; for tickets call Theatre Intime at 609-258-5155

Saturday, February 20, 2016

10:00 a.m. - Pastures Green and Dark Satanic Mills: The British Passion for Landscape
The British passion for landscape – already present in the literary works of Milton, Shakespeare, and even Chaucer – began to dominate the visual arts at the time of the Industrial Revolution. In his poem “Jerusalem” (1804), William Blake wrote of both “England’s green and pleasant land” and the “dark satanic mills” of its new industrial cities. Princeton University Art Museum

By Dawn’s Early Light: Jewish Contributions to American Culture from the Nation’s Founding to the Civil War
Living in an age when Jews are fully integrated into so much of America’s public and popular culture, it is difficult to imagine a time before they shone on the stage and printed page. Such a future for Jews was scarcely imaginable in the crucible years after the birth of the United States. In the colonial period, there was little precedent for Jews speaking for themselves vocally and volubly in the public arena. At the dawn of the Republic, they were new to American public life. Princeton University Art Museum

11:00 a.m.  Women’s Swimming & Diving Ivy Championships
DeNunzio Pool
Saturday, February 20, 2016, continued

12:00 p.m.  Women's Lacrosse vs. Virginia
Sherrerd Field at Class of 1952 Stadium

1:00 p.m.  Women's Squash vs. Trinity
Jadwin Gym Squash Courts, Level C

3:00 p.m.  Men's Lacrosse vs. NJIT
Sherrerd Field at Class of 1952 Stadium

4:00 p.m.  Women's Hockey vs. Union
Hobey Baker Rink

6:00 p.m.  Men's Basketball vs. Brown
Jadwin Gym

7:00 p.m.  When Dawn Breaks
An adaptation of One Thousand and One Nights. Encounter a world of opposites through the ancient story of Scheherazade from One Thousand and One Nights in a brand new immersive theatrical experience.
Murray Dodge Theater

8:00 p.m.  Mitsuko Uchida
Mitsuko Uchida’s presence at McCarter is always a singular event. Her program will include Berg’s Piano Sonata, and then music by two composers with whom she has long enjoyed a musical partnership for the ages: Schubert’s Four Impromptus, Op. 90 and Schumann’s Piano Sonata No. 1.
Matthews Theatre; for tickets call McCarter Theater at 609-258-ARTS (2787)

9:00 p.m.  Raks O Presents: Dawn
Raks O, Princeton's Belly Dance Troupe, presents its 16th annual spring show, Dawn. It's a dawn of a new chapter, so join us this year as we incorporate many modern and fusion elements, while preserving the traditional beats. You can definitely anticipate a great show with a vibrant galore of veils, swords, golden canes and much fun!
Frist Performance Theatre; tickets are available for $10 at the Frist Ticket Office

10:00 p.m.  When Dawn Breaks
An adaptation of One Thousand and One Nights. Encounter a world of opposites through the ancient story of Scheherazade from One Thousand and One Nights in a brand new immersive theatrical experience.
Murray Dodge Theater; for tickets call Theatre Intime at 609-258-5155
Saturday, February 20, 2016, continued

11:00 p.m.  Fuzzy Dice Improv Comedy Show
Frist Performance Theater; for tickets call Theatre Intime at 609-258-5155

WOODROW WILSON LEGACY COMMITTEE – SMALL GROUP DISCUSSIONS
The special trustee committee that is considering Woodrow Wilson’s legacy at Princeton University has posted a schedule for on-campus, in-person conversations with members of the committee. The committee has scheduled small group discussion (up to 12 participants per group) on February 18-20. Those interested in participating in the small group discussions may sign up through the committee’s website, wilsonlegacy.princeton.edu. The website also offers the opportunity to submit written observations and opinions directly to the committee.

ORANGE KEY CAMPUS TOURS
Experience the University from the individual perspective of an undergraduate student. Orange Key Tours cover many aspects of Princeton life, from academic information and campus life to University history and architectural details. No registration required. Tours depart on Friday at 11:15 a.m., 1:00 p.m. and 3:30 p.m. from Clio Hall and on Saturday at 11:15 a.m., 1:00 p.m. and 3:30 p.m. from Frist Campus Center.