

SCHEDULE OF EVENTS

9:00 a.m.

"A Conversation with EPA Administrator Jackson"

*Lisa P. Jackson *86, Administrator, U.S. Environmental Protection Agency*

Madison Medalist Lecture

Richardson Auditorium, Alexander Hall

"Immigration and American Exceptionalism"

Robert George, McCormick Professor of Jurisprudence, and Director, James Madison Program, Politics Department

Professor George will explore the question of how immigrants to the United States become Americans, not in the technical legal sense of becoming citizens, but in a full and robust sense. He will tie the concept of American "exceptionalism" to our nation's remarkable capacity in every generation to receive immigrants from every land and enable them to become as fully and robustly American as the descendants of those immigrants who came here on the Mayflower.

"Masterpieces of Late-Nineteenth Century French Painting in the Princeton University Art Museum"

Caroline Harris, Curator of Education and Academic Programs, Princeton University Art Museum

This lecture will focus on works in the museum's permanent collections and on loan from the Henry and Rose Pearlman Foundation, highlighting important Impressionist and Post-Impressionist works by Claude Monet, Edgar Degas, Paul Cezanne, and Vincent Van Gogh.

This lecture will be followed by a guided tour of the Princeton University Art Museum.

McCormick Hall, Room 101

"The Art and Science of Motorcycle Design"

Michael Littman, Professor, Mechanical and Aerospace Engineering

Wet clutch, swing arm suspension, overhead valves, 4-speed trans, Amal carb, dry sump, magneto-point ignition, and the like - this talk summarizes a Freshman Seminar in which Princeton students get to take apart, analyze, repair, and restore a classic 200cc Triumph 'Tiger Cub' Motorcycle.

East Pyne, Room 010

Workshop: Social Media 101: An Introduction to Social Networking

Special for Alumni Day, this workshop is for social networking novices who want to see what it is all about, but don't know where to begin. Fellow alumni and current students will serve as one-on-one tutors with you at a computer. Learn how to sign on, to demystify privacy settings, to understand the difference between Facebook and LinkedIn - and more.

Friend Center, Room 009

Richardson Auditorium, Alexander Hall

"Causes and Consequences of AIDS in Africa"

*Anne Case *83 *88, Alexander Stewart 1886 Professor of Economics and Public Affairs, Woodrow Wilson School*

This lecture will discuss our current understanding of why Africa is bearing the brunt of the AIDS crisis, and the consequences of the pandemic for the communities, households and individuals who shoulder its burden.

East Pyne, Room 010

"Children's Literature in a Digital Age"

William Gleason, Professor, English Department, and Acting Director, Program in American Studies

An exploration of the ways that digital technology and the Internet are shaping contemporary children's literature. Professor Gleason will discuss trends in digital publishing, the impact of the online world on children's reading habits, and the phenomenal growth of "young adult" literature.

McCormick Hall, Room 101

"The Long and Tragical History of Post-Partisanship"

R. Sean Wilentz, George Henry Davis 1886 Professor of American History, History Department

From George Washington's presidency and the eras of the Federalist and Whig parties, to the Confederacy and the present day, Wilentz will examine the longstanding "illusion of post-partisanship" that has marked the American political scene.

McCosh Hall, Room 10

Workshop: "Navigating the College Admissions Process"

Janet L. Rapelye, Dean of Admission

Dean of Admission Janet L. Rapelye and Maureen Kelly Scott '75, Chair of the Princeton Schools Committee, will lead a discussion on everything you wanted to know about preparing to apply to college but were afraid to ask. Open to students in 9th through 11th grades and their parents.

Robertson Hall, Dodds Auditorium

Demonstration: The (Oxidized and) Reduced Chemistry Company presents: "Fiery, Energetic, and Colorful Chemistry!"
