

¡Adelante Tigres!

Other Campus Events

ARTS

Murder on the Orient Express

The exotic Orient Express is about to go off the rails! With a locomotive full of suspects and an alibi for each one, it's the perfect mystery for detective Hercule Poirot, n'est-ce pas?

Thursday, 7:30 p.m., Friday, 8:00 p.m., Saturday, 3:00 & 8:00 p.m. | McCarter Theatre |

Tickets: (609) 258-2787

Theater Intime - Student Playwrights Festival

Friday, 8:00 p.m. & 10:00 p.m.; Saturday, 2:00 p.m. & 8:00 p.m. | Hamilton Murray Theatre |

Tickets: (609) 258-9220, utickets@princeton.edu

Más Flow Presents: No Me Digas!

Officially recognized in the spring of 2013, Más Flow is Princeton's premiere Latin dance group, currently bringing Latino music to campus through dance in salsa, bachata, merengue, and reggaeton performances.

Thursday & Friday, 8:00 p.m. | Frist Performance Theatre | Tickets at Frist Ticket Office.

EXHIBITS

Revealing Pictures: Photographs from the Christopher E. Olofson Collection

Drawn from the collection of Christopher E. Olofson, Princeton University Class of 1992, presents rich examples of photographs that are more than what they seem. His works point back to his own background in international studies and an interest in the narrative, identity, representation, and nation hood that informs his collecting.

Thursday, Friday, Saturday, 10:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. | Art Museum

The Berlin Painter and His World: Athenian Vase Painting in the Early Fifth Century B.C.

This is the first major museum exhibition devoted to “The Berlin Painter,” a name given by Oxford scholar Sir John Beazley to an anonymous fifth-century B.C. Athenian vase-painter, whose hand Beazley recognized in over 200 complete or fragmentary vases in collection around the world.

Thursday, Friday, Saturday, 10:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. | Art Museum

White Flag: Salvadoran Remnants

Artist: Oscar Rene Cornejo

Oscar Rene Cornejo is among the first-generation Salvadoran artists working in response to their parents’ civil war. “White Flag: Salvadoran Remnants” consists of three-dimensional abstract paintings and small black prints, which suggest a complex and powerful story of war and its aftermath.

All Day | Bernstein Gallery | Robertson Hall

SPECIAL EVENT

Governing for Hope and Change: Some Lessons

Speaker: Cecilia Muñoz, former Director, Domestic Policy Council, Obama Administration
Muñoz’s talk will kick off the School’s annual Management in the Public Sector conference. This year’s conference will be a series of panel discussions that will focus on Public Management, and address best practices with particular emphasis on the importance of technology, and performance management in achieving improvement in public services.

Thursday, 4:30 p.m. to 6:00 p.m. | Robertson Hall

ATHLETICS

Women’s Softball v. Brown

Friday, 2:00 p.m. & 4:00 p.m. | Class of 1895 Field

Men’s Lightweight Crew v. Columbia (The Campbell Cup)

Saturday, TBA | Lake Carnegie

Men’s Heavyweight Crew V. Navy

Saturday, TBA | Lake Carnegie

Men's Baseball v. Yale

Saturday, 12:00 p.m. & 2:30 p.m. | Clarke Field

Women's Softball v. Yale

Saturday, 12:30 p.m. & 2:30 p.m. | Class of 1895 Field

Men's Lacrosse v. Brown

Saturday, 1:00 p.m. | Sherrerd Field @ Class of 1952 Stadium