Campus Internet Access

Welcome to Princeton University. As a visitor to our campus, please feel free to access our Visitor Wireless Service from your personal computer, iPhone, or Android device. Visitor Wireless service is extended to all short-term visitors and is available in all wireless areas across campus.

Note: Use of the Visitor Wireless Service constitutes your agreement to abide by the University’s acceptable use policy. Once you access the Internet, please see Princeton’s IT use policies at www.princeton.edu/itpolicy.

To get started using Visitor Wireless:

1. Verify that you are in a wireless service area. Check your wireless network signal for Princeton University’s visitor wireless network, puvisitor.
2. Connect to the puvisitor wireless network. Configure your wireless network settings to access puvisitor. Instructions for the current computer operating systems and iPhone and Android devices follow.

From your computer...

In Windows 7:
- Click the Wireless icon in the bottom right of your computer screen.
- Click the puvisitor Wireless Network Connection
- Click the Connect button.

In Windows 8:
- Select Desktop from All apps screen.
- On the right side of the task bar, click on the network icon
- Select puvisitor from the list of available wireless networks.
- Check the box ‘Connect Automatically’.
- Click the Connect button.

In Mac OS X:
- Click the AirPort status icon in the menu bar.
- Select puvisitor from the list of available wireless networks.

From your iPhone:
While on campus, you have the option to configure your iPhone to connect to Princeton’s visitor wireless network. To do so:
- Tap Settings > Wi-Fi from the iPhone home screen.
- Set Wi-Fi to ON.
- Select puvisitor from the network list.
