ABOUT OUR STUDY LEADER

MARTHA A. (MARNI) SANDWEISS is a historian of the United States, with particular interests in the history of the American West, visual culture, and public history. She received her Ph.D. in History from Yale University and began her career as a photography curator at the Amon Carter Museum in Ft. Worth, TX. Professor Sandweiss taught American Studies and History at Amherst College for twenty years before joining the Princeton faculty in 2009.

At Princeton, Sandweiss teaches classes on western American history, public history and narrative writing. She is also the founder and director of the Princeton and Slavery Project, and is president-elect of the Western History Association. A part-time resident of Santa Fe for more than 35 years, she has deep connections to this part of the Southwest.
DAY 1: JULY 21, SATURDAY (R,D)
ARRIVE IN ALBUQUERQUE, NM
Arrive independently in Albuquerque, NM.
Gather this evening for a welcome reception and dinner.
Overnight: Hotel Albuquerque

DAY 2: JULY 22, SUNDAY (B,L,D)
ALBUQUERQUE, NM – CHIPDELL, AZ (CANYON DE CHELLY)
Today begin to explore the traditional pueblo and Navajo ways of life with a drive west to the the Acoma Pueblo, which dates back to the thirteenth century and is one of the earliest continuously inhabited communities in the United States. After lunch, drive to Canyon de Chelly, a living memorial commemorating the forced removal of the Navajo during the expansion of the United States in the mid-1800s. The area provides a fascinating look at the present-day life of the Navajo people who again occupy the canyon and live both in it and along the rim.
Overnight: Thunderbird Lodge

DAY 3: JULY 23, MONDAY (B,L,D)
CANYON DE CHELLY, AZ
Get a closer look at Canyon de Chelly’s distinctive architecture, artifacts, and rock art today with a ride through the canyon in four-wheel-drive vehicles and an optional hike to the White House Ruins. This afternoon learn about the Navajo education system during a discussion with Dr. Sandweiss and Benjamin Barney, Director of Dine Teacher Education Program at Dine College, the first college established by Native Americans for Native Americans.
Overnight: Thunderbird Lodge

Above: Shiprock, New Mexico
DAY 4: JULY 24, TUESDAY (B, L, D)
CHINLE, AZ – SHIPROCK, NM – FARMINGTON, NM – BLOOMFIELD, NM
Drive to Shiprock, the stunning rock formation standing 1,500 feet above the high-desert plain of the Navajo Nation and meet Perry Shorty, a well-known Navajo silversmith who is a Princeton parent. Continue further west to the Aztec Ruins in Farmington, NM. Finish your day with a barbecue dinner and overnight in Bloomfield, NM.
Overnight: Best Western Territorial Inn and Suites

DAY 5: JULY 25, WEDNESDAY (B, L)
BLOOMFIELD, NM – CHACO CANYON, NM - SANTA FE, NM
Depart Bloomfield for Chaco Canyon, home to the densest and most exceptional concentration of pueblos in the American Southwest. Enjoy a guided archeology tour of this special place and learn of its sacred significance to the Hopi, Navajo, and Pueblo people. After lunch, drive east to Santa Fe, our home for the next four nights.
Overnight: Inn on the Alameda

DAY 6: JULY 26, THURSDAY (B, D)
SANTA FE – SANTA ANA PUEBLO – SANTA FE
Today, call in to the Santa Ana Pueblo, located just south of Santa Fe and home to about 500 residents. A small, conservative pueblo, Santa Ana is open to visitors only once a year: on July 26, the feast day of the Pueblo’s patron saint, Anne. There are dances from morning to night. Representatives from many other Native American tribes come to this celebration but there are very few tourists. This will be a very special opportunity for visitors to experience a vital and vibrant expression of Native culture, both ancient and modern.
Overnight: Inn on the Alameda

DAY 7: JULY 27, FRIDAY (B, L)
SANTA FE – LOS ALAMOS – SANTA FE
Today tour Los Alamos, home of the infamous World War II-era nuclear weapon research program, the Manhattan Project. Our guide will share stories of growing up as a child at Los Alamos and her encounters with famous scientists working on the atomic bomb. Upon returning to Santa Fe, enjoy a private tour of one of the best collections of Native Art in the world with the School for Advanced Research’s President, Michael F. Brown ’72. Dinner this evening is at leisure with free time to attend the acclaimed Santa Fe Opera.*
Overnight: Inn on the Alameda

* Royal Road Tours, Princeton Journeys’ partner travel operator for this program, will distribute additional information about opera showtimes, tickets and prices upon receipt of reservation.
