Dear Princetonian,

From its dynamic role as a French colony to the late 20th-century struggles and 21st-century reunification, Vietnam is rich in history and ripe with remnants — both physical and psychological — of each bygone era. Join Professor Stan Katz and your fellow Princetonians, October 24 – November 3, 2014, in an investigation of Vietnamese society today.

Begin in charming Hanoi, whose French architectural details meld seamlessly with the serene lines of its pagodas and temples. Stay overnight in Hanoi allow you to take in the old through a cyclo (flying taxi) tour of the city’s colonial Old Quarter and get up to date in briefings with government officials, foundation representatives and other minority contacts. Depart Hanoi for central Vietnam and the old capital of Hue, which was once the region’s cultural, religious, and educational center. From there, continue south to Hoi An, a UNESCO World Heritage site with an eclectic mix of merchant architecture showing varying influences in French, Chinese and Japanese style all of which miraculously escaped the ravages of war. End the program in bustling Ho Chi Minh City (Saigon), a mix of old and new that makes the perfect bookend for the program.

As this program is exclusive to Princeton travelers, we anticipate interest in the well-paced, vivid program will be strong. Contact the Princeton Journeys team at (609) 258-6969 or journeys@princeton.edu to reserve your space today.

With kind regards,

Stanley Katz, Formerly Class of 1921 Bicentennial Professor of the History of American Law and Liberty at Princeton University, Katz currently holds the title of Lecturer with the rank of Professor in Public and International Affairs at the Woodrow Wilson School and is the director of the University’s Center for Arts and Cultural Policy Studies. A specialist on American legal and constitutional history, and on philanthropy and non-profit institutions, his recent research focuses upon the relationship of civil society and constitutionality to democracy and upon the relationship of the United States to the international human rights regime. His interest in and involvement with Vietnam began in the 1980’s when he became president of the American Council of Learned Societies, which then had scholarly post-doctoral exchanges between the U.S. and Vietnam at the same time as he developed ACLS’s new focus on the study of constitutionality, thus his current scholarly interests. On this journey, Professor Katz will discuss the landscape of civil society and enterprise in Vietnam over the course of the past three decades. The comments will be enhanced by specially-arranged meetings with local field staff of NGOs and other players in the modern economy.

Arrive Hanoi. You will be transferred to the Metropole Hotel, located just a few steps from the historic Old Quarter. The Metropole Hotel, located just a few steps from the historic Old Quarter, is an enchanting boutique hotel on the banks of the scenic Thu Bon River overlooking the former Imperial Citadel of Hué, which was once home to Emperors and is now a part of a UNESCO World Heritage Site. Lunch will be served at the hotel followed by a guided tour of the city including a bicycle rickshaw tour through the Old Quarter and the Hoi An Covered Bridge, the local produce market, Tang Ky House, and the Fukhien Association. The town is a haven for local artists and artisans established themselves in the Old Quarter. Subsequent stops will be the Fukhien Association and Banteay Srei, considered by many to be the most colorful in Asia. This evening the group will attend a private dinner in the home of Nguyen Van, the local host to dinner, shop, and explore on your own.

A spectacular morning drive along the coastline and over the Hai Van Pass ends in the town of Hoi An, which was declared a UNESCO World Heritage site in 1999. Foreigners have been coming to Hoi An since the 15th-century. Dutch, Portuguese, British, French, Japanese, and Chinese—spent much time in Hoi An. The town was once home to the trade offices of the East India Company. Hoi An is a small town of yellow and white wooden houses with traditional Chinese architecture. Hoi An is known as the “Pearl of the South” and there are many hotels. Hoi An is also well known for its tailors, making custom-made clothing for a fraction of what it costs in the West. The morning concludes with a private boat trip on the Thu Bon River and a chance to catch a glimpse of the surrounding countryside at leisure as the tour ends for the day to return to the hotel.

This morning, a bicycle rickshaw excursion winds its way through the Fukhien Association. The town is a haven for local artists and artisans established themselves in the Old Quarter. Subsequent stops will be the Fukhien Association and Banteay Srei, considered by many to be the most colorful in Asia. This evening the group will attend a private dinner in the home of Nguyen Van, the local host to dinner, shop, and explore on your own.

Day 9. Saturday, November 1.
The day begins with a visit to the famous temple complex of Angkor Thom, the Bayon Temple, the Elephant Terrace, and the Silver Pagoda and the Victory Monument. The day ends with a visit to the Fukhien Association. The town is a haven for local artists and artisans established themselves in the Old Quarter. Subsequent stops will be the Fukhien Association and Banteay Srei, considered by many to be the most colorful in Asia. This evening the group will attend a private dinner in the home of Nguyen Van, the local host to dinner, shop, and explore on your own.

Day 10. Sunday, November 2.
Saigon (Ho Chi Minh City).
A morning flight takes our group to Phnom Penh, Cambodia. Transfer to the Raffles Hotel, a favorite of the group. Lunch will be served in a small inn near the hotel. This morning's highlight will be a trip to the famed Banteay Srei, considered by many to be the most colorful in Asia. This evening the group will attend a private dinner in the home of Nguyen Van, the local host to dinner, shop, and explore on your own.

Inside Vietnam

OCTOBER 24 – NOVEMBER 3, 2014

Tour Cost: $5,995 per person, double occupancy

Dates: OCTOBER 24 – NOVEMBER 3, 2014

Inside Vietnam offers a richly rewarding journey into the heart of Vietnam, a dynamic nation in the midst of rapid economic development and cultural change. Led by Princeton Study Leader Stanley Katz, this program provides a unique opportunity to explore Vietnam’s diverse landscape, history, and contemporary society. It is designed for travelers who seek to engage with the country’s rich heritage and to understand the issues facing its future development.

Tour Overview:
- Begin in charming Hanoi, whose French architectural details meld seamlessly with the serene lines of its pagodas and temples. Three nights in Hanoi allow you to take in the old through a cyclo (bicycle rickshaw) tour of the city’s colorful Old Quarter and get up to date on Vietnam today, including political, social, economic, and cultural highlights.
- Our journey then takes us to Halong Bay, a UNESCO World Heritage Site, where you will embark on a day cruise, attending briefings with government officials, foundation representatives, and local dignitaries. You will sail through the world’s largest natural harbor, observing the marble mountains and limestone islands rising from the sea.
- North to the Vietnamese capital, Hanoi, for a visit to the Ho Chi Minh Mausoleum, the War Remnants Museum, and the impressive collection of Vietnamese art at the Museum of Fine Arts. Have dinner at a restaurant in Hanoi’s Old Quarter.
- On to Mai Chau Valley, a remote, mountainous region that offers a glimpse of traditional Vietnamese life. Enjoy a homestay and dinner at a local house. In the morning, visit a local market and then drive to the town of Than Uyen where you will have a chance to meet with local residents.
- Drive to Sa Pa, in the heart of theooky Hoang Lien Son Mountains. Known for its World Heritage Site status, the Hoang Lien Son Mountains are the site of the White Hmong and Black Hmong people’s homes. Enjoy a homestay and dinner at a local house. In the morning, visit a local market and then drive to the town of Than Uyen where you will have a chance to meet with local residents.
- Continue on to Sapa, a town in the northwest of Vietnam, where you will have a chance to visit a local market and then drive to the town of Than Uyen where you will have a chance to meet with local residents.
- On to Hanoi, for a visit to the Hanoi Museum, the National History Museum, and the Museum of Fine Arts.
- End the program in bustling Ho Chi Minh City (Saigon), a vibrant city that is a mix of old and new that makes the perfect bookend for the program. You will have time to explore the city, including a cyclo tour of the city’s Old Quarter, and then fly back to the U.S.
