
01. UNIVERSITY NEWS

Eisgruber focuses on college access, socioeconomic diversity, at events in Bay Area President Christopher L. Eisgruber ’83 focused on ways to improve college access and success for low-income and first-generation students during a visit to the Bay Area on Wednesday, May 3.
http://www.princeton.edu/main/news/archive/S49/43/38Q77

Celebrating service at Princeton
More than 300 members of the University and local communities joined together Wednesday, April 26, for Celebrating Service at Princeton. This inaugural event was organized by the University’s Service and Civic Engagement Steering Committee to honor the service and civic engagement endeavors of Princeton faculty, undergraduate students, graduate students, staff and community partners.

University opens new center for students with disabilities
The opening of Princeton’s AccessAbility Center on April 13 marked a significant step in the University’s efforts to ensure equal access to its curricular and co-curricular opportunities for students with disabilities.

Eisgruber selects ’What Is Populism?’ for Pre-read President Christopher L. Eisgruber ’83 has selected "What Is Populism?" by Jan-Werner Müller, a Princeton professor of politics, as the book for this year’s Pre-read. This Princeton tradition is an introduction to the intellectual life of the University that centers on a book that first-year students and others in the Princeton community read.
http://www.princeton.edu/main/news/archive/S49/33/06O41

Princeton unveils preview of new main website design
Princeton has made public a preview version of a new design for its main website and is seeking comment from the University community and other visitors to the site. The preview site is at http://beta.princeton.edu.
02. ACADEMIC DIGEST

The question of evil: A humanistic inquiry
Students in two humanities courses this spring are examining the idea of evil through close reading and discussion of literary and philosophical texts from across the centuries and around the world.

Synthetic gas would cut air pollution but worsen climate damage in China
China's smog has created a public health crisis that has led the Chinese government to declare a war on air pollution. In addition, as part of the Paris climate agreements, China has committed to peaking its CO2 emissions by 2030 or sooner. A new study led by Princeton researchers analyzes a conflict between these goals in China's plans to use synthetic natural gas, a fuel derived from coal that is relatively free of conventional air pollutants but the production of which increases emissions of carbon dioxide, relative to direct coal combustion.
http://www.princeton.edu/main/news/archive/S49/33/14A80

Senior thesis: Shaikh's Princeton experience builds to exploration of end-of-life care Nabil Shaikh's senior thesis took him more than 8,000 miles from Princeton to Hyderabad, India, where he interviewed terminally ill cancer patients about their experience with end-of-life care. For Shaikh, a politics major from Reading, Pennsylvania, the fieldwork was just one part of a four-year journey through the University that gave him the academic grounding, intellectual support and real-world experience needed to explore ethical, political and practical questions about caring for the terminally ill.
http://www.princeton.edu/main/news/archive/S49/30/38K48

Rethinking the nature and history of conservation
Jacob Dlamini, a Princeton assistant professor of history and qualified South African field guide, uses the ecological history of Africa to discuss the effectiveness and moral considerations of conservation in the class "White Hunters, Black Poachers."

03. ALUMNI INTEREST

Reunions 2017 set for June 1-4
The Reunions 2017 schedule of open events is now available on the Alumni Association Reunions website. Sample great panels, performances, pyrotechnics and the one and only P-rade.
General Reunions information: http://alumni.princeton.edu/goinback/reunions/2017
Schedule of open events: http://alumni.princeton.edu/goinback/reunions/2017/events

© 2017 The Trustees of Princeton University
Reunions 2017 registration information
If you have not pre-registered for your major reunion, check your class website for information. Pre-registration for satellites of the 5th reunion (2011-2016) has closed, but on-site registration will be available. For all other satellite reunions, there is no pre-registration; simply register for free when you arrive on campus. A satellite class member may bring one adult guest (over age 21) and minor children or grandchildren (under age 21) for free. (Exception: the 5th reunion and APGA, for which registration is payable on a per-person basis.)
Class websites: http://alumni.princeton.edu/goinback/reunions/2017/majorclasses
5th Satellite information: http://alumni.princeton.edu/goinback/reunions/2017/satellites/5thsatellite.xml
10th-65th Satellite information: http://alumni.princeton.edu/goinback/reunions/2017/satellites/satellite.xml
Association of Princeton Graduate Alumni Reunions information: http://alumni.princeton.edu/communities/graduate/apga/reunions/2017/

Go green! Go mobile! Technology enhances the Reunions experience Available the week of Reunions, Reunions Mobile provides a wide range of important information through the convenience of smartphones and other mobile devices. For event listings, campus maps, a live Twitter feed, alerts, headquarters sites, nightly entertainment listings, campus and hotel shuttle schedules, live shuttle tracking, parking and road closure details, lawn concert and fireworks details, and — of course — P-rade mustering stations and logistical info, go to (and bookmark) Reunions Mobile. To enhance your mobile experience while on campus, Wi-Fi access will be available in many campus buildings and at Reunions headquarters sites by joining the network "puvisitor." (A map of Wi-Fi locations is available on Reunions Mobile.)
http://m.princeton.edu/reunions

Use #PrincetonReunions to connect on social media during Reunions
There are plenty of ways to connect at Reunions. In your social media posts about Reunions 2017, be sure to include the hashtag #PrincetonReunions. Also, follow @princetonalumni on Twitter for alerts and updates throughout the weekend. To view photos and videos during Reunions, "like" the Alumni Association Facebook page and follow the Alumni Association on Instagram. Or follow all the #PrincetonReunions social media activity on Tagboard.
Alumni Association on Twitter: http://twitter.com/princetonalumni
Alumni Association on Facebook: http://facebook.com/princetonalumni
Alumni Association on Instagram: http://instagram.com/princetonalumni
#PrincetonReunions on Tagboard: http://tagboard.com/PrincetonReunions
Alumni-Faculty Forums announced for Reunions 2017
One of the most inspirational and informative parts of coming back for Reunions is the opportunity to hear from and interact with some of Princeton’s most talented and recognized alumni at the Alumni-Faculty Forums. Panelists from major reunion classes and the APGA will share their expertise on a variety of topics, such as health care, sports, technology, education, world politics, science, careers and more. Be sure to take a look at the AFF schedule and make plans to enrich a part of your weekend by attending your favorite sessions.
http://alumni.princeton.edu/learnttravel/events/aff

Alumni Council Committee on Careers offers Top 10 Tips and Tricks for mid-career transition at Reunions
Looking for a new job? Come learn the Top 10 Tips and Tricks for mid-career transition from the Office of Career Services. In addition, a LinkedIn expert will be on site to help spruce up your profile. This event is open to all and will take place Friday, June 2, from 1-3 p.m. at Butler College, Class of 1915 Room.
Learn more at:
https://alumni.princeton.edu/volunteer/committees/careers/

Alumni Schools Committee reception for all alumni interviewers at Reunions Meet and mingle with alumni from around the world who have interviewed prospective candidates for the Class of 2021 on Friday, June 2 from 3:30-4:30 p.m. This event is sponsored by the Alumni Council Princeton Schools Committee.
http://alumni.princeton.edu/goinback/reunions/2017/events

President Christopher L. Eisgruber ’83 meets alumni President Christopher L. Eisgruber's next event will be in Detroit, Michigan, on Tuesday, June 27. All undergraduate and graduate alumni, and current parents and students, are invited to hear Princeton's 20th president in a conversation led by William Clay Ford, Jr. ’79, executive chairman of the board, Ford Motor Company. More information is available at:
http://alumni.princeton.edu/calendar/president

Visit the Galápagos Islands aboard the National Geographic Islander with Princeton Journeys
Last chance! There are only two cabins left on our expedition to the Galápagos Islands aboard the National Geographic Islander, September 2-11. Join your fellow Princetonians to visit all eight unique islands and experience the majestic, unearthly ecosystem that can be found in only one place on this earth: the Galápagos. David Wilcove *85, professor of ecology and evolutionary biology and public affairs, Woodrow Wilson School, will serve as study leader for this program. Contact the Princeton Journeys team today, before it's too late: (609)258-8686 or journeys@princeton.edu.
http://alumni.princeton.edu/learnttravel/journeys/roster/galapagos17/
From the PAW: The best old place of all PAW’s student interns and contributors write about the campus spaces and places that have made Princeton their home — and why they’re so special. Read their selections — from soaring Gothic towers to study corners and locker rooms — and let PAW know what place speaks to the spirit of your Princeton.
https://paw.princeton.edu/tags/favorite-places
President’s Page: https://paw.princeton.edu/article/class-2017-extending-princetons-tradition-service

04. GIFTS TO PRINCETON

Video: Sarah’s Budding Ideas
Sarah Santucci ’17 was raised in the rich farmland of the Mississippi Delta. Her concentration in molecular biology at Princeton comes naturally: she’s always been interested in what can grow in soil and water. After getting involved with the Princeton Garden Project, her interests began to shift from the tenacity of orchid species to the community benefits of growing organic food. From sustenance to sustainability, Sarah is planting ideas that will lead to healthier lives.

Princeton alumnae connect at Women in Leadership
Last month, Princeton alumnae gathered on campus to connect with old friends, make new ones, and hear from faculty members and administrators during the Women in Leadership conference. Speakers included Nancy Weiss Malkiel, professor of history emerita and former dean of the college, who discussed her new book, ”Keep the Damned Women Out: The Struggle for Coeducation.” See photos from the event:
http://giving.princeton.edu/gallery/2017-women-leadership-conference

Professor Charles Gillispie leaves a legacy of intellectual leadership Charles Gillispie, Princeton’s Dayton-Stockton Professor of History Emeritus, epitomized the qualities associated with an ideal professor: rigorous scholarship and a devotion to students. Professor Gillispie, who died in 2015 at age 97, co-founded the University’s internationally recognized Program in History of Science and helped to establish one of Princeton’s most esteemed awards, the Daniel M. Sachs Class of 1960 Graduating Scholarship. His life’s work continues, thanks to gifts he made to the University through life income, gifts which provided payments to him during his lifetime, and a bequest from his estate.
http://giving.princeton.edu/impact-stories/professor-charles-gillispies-legacy-intellectual-leadership

05. MULTIMEDIA FEATURES

Video: Sharing new tastes through cultural heritage dining
Campus Dining exposes students to new cuisines and cultures, and also reflects the different tastes of students who come to Princeton from all over the country and the world.
Video: Earth Day 2017: Environmental engagement and action
As Earth Day 2017 approached, we documented this moment in history on Princeton's campus among undergraduates, graduate students and faculty, with a special focus on the University community's engagement in service around environmental issues.

Video: Demonstrating Principles of Flight With sUAS
Students in Jason Puchalla's Physics 108 class, "Physics for the Life Sciences," learn to operate remote control birds and mini-quadcopters, part of a hands-on lesson in the complexities of animal flight.
https://drones.princeton.edu/blogs/video-demonstrating-principles-flight-suas

06. EXHIBITS & EVENTS

Mudd Library hosts "A Lotta Kicks: 125 Years of the Triangle Club"
An exhibit celebrating the 125th anniversary of Princeton University's Triangle Club, featuring archival materials from the Triangle Club Records housed in the University Archives, is on display in the Seeley G. Mudd Manuscript Library through Reunions into June.
https://blogs.princeton.edu/mudd/2016/11/a-lotta-kicks/

Peter Badge photos capture Princeton’s Nobel Laureates
Forty-one recipients of the Nobel Prize have a connection to Princeton University, which has celebrated two winners in just the past two years: Professor F. Duncan M. Haldane nabbed the Nobel Prize in Physics in 2016, and Sir Angus Deaton won the Nobel Memorial Prize in Economic Sciences in 2015. This free, public photo exhibit in the Woodrow Wilson School's Bernstein Gallery will feature 31 Nobel laureates who have a connection to the University. The exhibit will be on display through August 17, and there will be an opening with a reception on May 19 at 6 p.m.

Exhibition to focus on Athenian vase-painting
"The Berlin Painter and His World: Athenian Vase-Painting in the Early Fifth Century B.C." is the first major museum exhibition devoted to "The Berlin Painter," the name given by Oxford scholar Sir John Beazley to an anonymous fifth-century B.C. Athenian vase-painter, whose hand Beazley recognized in over 200 complete or fragmentary vases in collections around the world. The exhibition will be on view through June 11 at the Princeton University Art Museum.
07. SPORTS UPDATES

Diehl and Kelly take second at IC4As
Sophomore Andrew Diehl had a big jump of 2.04 (6-8.25) in the high jump to take second place as Princeton host the IC4A Championships at Weaver Stadium. It is just a half an inch under his personal best of 2.05 from the opening meet of the 2017 season. Sophomore Adam Kelly finished second in the hammer throw as he landed his best throw at 64.96 (213-1). It came on his first countable throw after a foul on his first attempt. He followed with throws of 64.91, 63.20 and 62.56.

Ratcliffe Wins Third ECAC Title
Senior Julia Ratcliffe won her third ECAC hammer throw title, the lone women's event on Saturday, May 13, after weather forced the rescheduling of all track events to Sunday, May 14. Ratcliffe threw 62.17 (204) on her second attempt to earn her third ECAC hammer title, after also winning in 2015 and 2014.

Quick start sends women's rowing team to 2017 Ivy League Championship
The top seeded Princeton women's rowing team knew that both Yale and Brown would be top challengers for the 2017 Ivy League title. Both programs pushed the Tigers during their perfect regular season, and both already claimed golds during other grand finals on Cooper River. Princeton used a brilliant start to gain a significant lead by the first 500 meters and never led either Top-10 boat get within contact to claim the 2017 Ivy League championship. The Tigers, who finished in 6:07.38, won their second straight crown, as well as their third in the last four years.

Princeton in the Pros: Barnes recalled by Toronto Blue Jays, has not allowed a run this season
Former Tiger Danny Barnes '12 was recalled by the Toronto Blue Jays on Monday, May 1, giving Princeton three players in the Major Leagues as he joins Matt Bowman '14 and Chris Young '02 again. He has appeared in two games since being called up, throwing 4 1/3 innings, striking out four hitters. In six games for Toronto, Barnes has not given up a run.
08. PRINCETON WEB CONNECT

Princeton University - http://www.princeton.edu
Office of Alumni Affairs - http://alumni.princeton.edu
TigerNet Services – http://alumni.princeton.edu/tigernet/
Class pages - http://alumni.princeton.edu/communities/classes/
Graduate alumni page- http://alumni.princeton.edu/communities/graduate/
Giving to Princeton - http://giving.princeton.edu/
Public events calendar - http://calendar.princeton.edu
Princeton Social Media: http://socialmedia.princeton.edu

09. ABOUT TIGER E-NEWS

We want to hear from you. Please send comments and questions to tigerene@princeton.edu.
To change personal data, log in to TigerNet at http://alumni.princeton.edu.

Technical Note: Because various email programs handle links differently, broken links sometimes occur. If this happens, you may need to copy and paste both parts of the URL (address) into your Web browser.