Constitution
OF PRINCETON UNIVERSITY CLASS OF 1949

ARTICLE I: NAME
The name of this organization shall be "Princeton University Class of 1949", hereinafter referred to as "the class."

ARTICLE II: MEMBERSHIP
All men who are listed officially by Princeton University as being in the Class of 1949 shall be members of the class, together with such honorary members as may be nominated by the Executive Committee and elected by the vote of a majority of the class in attendance at any annual meeting.

ARTICLE III: OFFICERS
1. The officers of the class shall consist of a president, a vice-president, a secretary and a treasurer.
* 2. Candidates for these offices shall be chosen as follows, provided that no member shall be nominated to hold any office or combination of offices for more than two full terms in succession: A Nominating Committee, consisting of five members and appointed by the Executive Committee, but at least three of whose members shall be neither officers of the class nor members of the Executive Committee, shall nominate at least four men for the office of president, and at least three men for each of the offices of secretary and treasurer. These nominations shall be published at an appropriate time in the Class Notes section of the Princeton Alumni Weekly. Thereafter, and for a reasonable period, but not less than four weeks, additional nominations for each office shall be accepted from the members of the class at large when mailed to the secretary and accompanied by the signatures of five or more members. At the expiration of such period, election ballots listing the candidates of the Nominating Committee and the nominations at large shall be prepared and mailed to all members of the class. The period during which such election ballots may be marked and returned shall be of a reasonable length but not less than four weeks.
* 3. The president, secretary and treasurer shall be the men respectively receiving the highest number of votes of the election ballots received within a reasonable time from a mailing of ballots for such purposes to all members of the class. The vice-president shall be the man receiving the second highest number of votes for president. The officers shall hold office commencing Sunday of reunion week of the year of election for a term of five years or until their successors are appointed. Ballots shall be counted by such members of the Executive Committee not candidates as shall be appointed for that purpose together with any other members of the class not candidates so appointed.

* These paragraphs to be replaced by:

2. On or before February 1 of each major reunion year the incumbnet president of the class shall appoint, with the approval of the Executive Committee, a Nominating Committee of not less than five members of the class no one of whom shall be a candidate for any office; said Committee to be charged with the submission of a single slate of officers to be elected at the annual meeting of the class to be held during the major reunion. The names of the nominees shall be mailed to the class at least two weeks in advance of the annual meeting and no name shall be submitted without prior approval of the nominee. The election of class officers shall be by a majority vote of those classmates present at the annual meeting and there shall be no nominations from the floor.

3. The officers elected at the annual meeting shall hold office commencing on Sunday of reunion weekend of the year of election for a term of five years or until their successors are elected. No incumbent (with the exception of the secretary) may succeed himself in office directly, but may be elected to any other office.
