

THE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION OF PRINCETON UNIVERSITY

SERVICE OF REMEMBRANCE

FEBRUARY 22, 2020

THE UNIVERSITY CHAPEL
PRINCETON

The Service of Remembrance

A Brief History

The Service of Remembrance honors alumni, students, faculty and staff whose deaths were recorded during the previous calendar year. It was first held in 1919 in the University's Marquand Chapel, before the chapel burned down in 1920. Records are not clear if services took place in the years following the fire. Now held in the University Chapel which replaced Marquand Chapel in 1928, the service became an annual event after World War II.

The Memorial Procession

Commencing the Service of Remembrance is the Memorial Procession, composed of representatives from every undergraduate class, the Graduate School, the Princeton faculty and staff – preceded by Jennifer A. Daniels '93, chair of the Service of Remembrance Committee, and Mary J. Newburn '97, vice president of the Alumni Association of Princeton University. Each member of the procession carries a symbolic white carnation that is placed inside the Memorial Wreath, remembering all of those who died during 2019 and in past years.

Processional Kites

Representing the elements of the earth, the whimsical and colorful Processional Kites are carried and “flown” in the chapel before the service begins.

Kites for the Service of Remembrance are carried by students from the University Chapel Choir.

The red kite represents “fire,” carried by McGinnis B. Miller '20.
The blue kite represents “water,” carried by David M. McElroy '21.
The green kite represents “earth,” carried by Tessa R. Flanagan '21.
The white kite represents “air,” carried by Rose C. Arbittier '20.

Artist Juanita Kauffman painted the fabric for the kites as well as the chapel's eight hanging banners. The kites were constructed by Martin Blais, a kitemaker in Tennessee. In addition to the Service of Remembrance, the kites are also incorporated into many University events held in the chapel, including Opening Exercises and Baccalaureate.

This Service of Remembrance is made possible in part by generous support from the bequest of Lois Dale Stewart Eddy h41, in memory of Ernest T. Stewart Jr. '41.

HYMN O God, Our Help in Ages Past

St. Anne
William Croft, 1708, Composer
Isaac Watts, 1719, Poem

I
O God, our help in ages past,
Our hope for years to come,
Our shelter from the stormy blast,
And our eternal home!

II
Under the shadow of your throne
Your saints have dwelt secure;
Sufficient is your arm alone,
And our defense is sure.

III
Before the hills in order stood,
Or earth received its frame,
From everlasting you are God,
To endless years the same.

IV
A thousand ages, in your sight,
Are like an evening gone;
Short as the watch that ends the night,
Before the rising sun.

V
Time, like an ever rolling stream,
Soon bears us all away;
We fly forgotten, as a dream
Fades at the opening day.

VI
O God, our help in ages past,
Our hope for years to come,
Still be our God while troubles last,
And our eternal home!

OPENING SENTENCES

Reverend Alison L. Boden

Leader: God is our refuge and strength,
People: A very present help in trouble.
Leader: God, you have been our refuge
People: From one generation to another.
Leader: Let us pray.

A PRAYER (Leader and People)

O God our Creator, the source of life, from whom we come and to whom all life leads, we praise you for the gift of life, for its joys and wonders, its friendship, family and community. We thank you for the ties that bind us so closely to one another. We ask for the faith to entrust to the power of your love those who have died. We thank you for their accomplishments, their happiness, and the times of grace they knew with us. Gather them with those who have gone before in the comfort of a saving hope and at perfect peace with all the world.

Leader: Holy God, Holy and Mighty, Holy Immortal One, have mercy upon them and upon all whom you have made.
People: May light perpetual shine upon them. Amen.

Please be seated.

ANTHEM Eternal Rest

James Whitbourn, 2002

Grant unto us, O Lord, eternal rest.
May light perpetual shine on us.
Amen.

Juston E. Forte '20

PSALM 139:1–11

Daniel P. Lopresti *78

Leader: Lord, you have searched me out and known me;
People: you know my sitting down and my rising up;
you discern my thoughts from afar.
Leader: You trace my journeys and my resting places
People: and are acquainted with all my ways.
Leader: Indeed, there is not a word on my lips,
People: but you, O Lord, know it altogether.
Leader: You press upon me behind and before
People: and lay your hand upon me.
Leader: Such knowledge is too wonderful for me;
People: it is so high that I cannot attain to it.
Leader: Where can I go then from your spirit?
People: Where can I flee from your presence?
Leader: If I climb up to heaven, you are there;
People: if I make the grave my bed, you are there also.
Leader: If I take the wings of the morning,
People: and dwell in the uttermost parts of the sea,
Leader: Even there your hand will lead me
People: and your right hand hold me fast.
Leader: If I say, "Surely the darkness will cover me,
People: and the light around me turn to night,"
Leader: Darkness is not dark to you; the night is as bright as the day;
People: darkness and light to you are both alike.

HYMN Immortal, Invisible, God Only Wise

St. Denio

Adapt. from a Welsh ballad in John Roberts’
“Hymns of the Sanctuary,” 1839

I
Immortal, invisible, God only wise,
In light inaccessible hid from our eyes,
Most blessed, most glorious, the Ancient of Days,
Almighty, victorious, your great name we praise.

II
Unresting, unhasting, and silent as light,
Not wanting, not wasting, but ruling in might;
Your justice like mountains high soaring above,
Your clouds which are fountains of goodness and love.

III
Your life is life-giving—to both great and small;
In all life you’re living, the true life of all;
We blossom and flourish as leaves and as flowers,
Then wither and perish—but naught dims your powers.

IV
So perfect your glory, so brilliant your light,
Your angels adore you, all veiling their sight;
All praise we now render as your angels do;
In awe at the splendor of light hiding you.

Please be seated.

THE MEMORIAL ADDRESS

Reverend Mr. Douglas J. Ray, SJ ’95

PRAYERS

Mourner’s Kaddish

Rabbi Julie Roth

Glorified and sanctified be God’s great name throughout the world which He has created according to His will.
May He establish His kingdom in your lifetime and during your days, and within the life of the entire House of Israel, speedily and soon; and say, Amen.

May His great name be blessed forever and to all eternity.

Blessed and praised, glorified and exalted, extolled and honored, adored and lauded be the name of the Holy One, blessed be He, beyond all the blessings and hymns, praises and consolations that are ever spoken in the world; and say, Amen.

May there be abundant peace from heaven, and life, for us and for all Israel; and say, Amen.

He who creates peace in His celestial heights, may He create peace for us and for all Israel; and say, Amen.

Surah Al-Fatihah

Imam Sohaib N. Sultan

In the name of God, the infinitely Compassionate and Merciful. Praise be to God, Lord of all the worlds.
The Compassionate, the Merciful. Ruler on the Day of Reckoning. You alone do we worship, and You alone do we ask for help. Guide us on the straight path, the path of those who have received your grace; not the path of those who have brought down wrath, nor of those who wander astray. Amen.

A PRAYER FOR PRINCETON

Reverend Theresa S. Thames

Leader and People:

O Eternal God, the source of life and light for all peoples, we pray you would endow this University with your grace and wisdom:
Give inspiration and understanding to those who teach and to those who learn.
Grant vision to her trustees and administrators.
To all who work here and to all who bear her name give your guiding Spirit of sacrificial courage and loving service. Amen.

HYMN For All the Saints

Sine Nomine
Ralph Vaughan Williams, 1906, Composer
William W. How, 1864, Poem

I
For all the saints, who from their labors rest,
Who to the world their steadfast faith confessed,
Your name, O Lord God, be forever blest.
Alleluia! Alleluia!

II
You were their rock, their refuge, and their might:
You, Lord, the hope that put their fears to flight;
'mid gloom and doubt, you were their one true light.
Alleluia! Alleluia!

III
Ringed by this cloud of witnesses divine,
We feebly struggle, they in glory shine;
Yet in your love our faithful lives entwine.
Alleluia! Alleluia!

IV
And when the strife is fierce, the warfare long,
Steals on the ear the distant triumph song,
Then hearts are brave again, and faith grows strong.
Alleluia! Alleluia!

THE MEMORIAL PROCESSION

Aria from Concerto Grosso No. 12
George Frideric Handel
(1685-1759)

When the procession reaches the chancel, the representatives will each contribute a flower to the Memorial Wreath in memory of their classmates and colleagues. As soon as the Memorial Wreath is complete, President Eisgruber will pronounce the following dedication:

By the dedication of this wreath, we, the living members of the Princeton family, join together to honor those of our company who are now numbered with the great communion of the eternal. May this wreath be the symbol of our continuing unity so that we may uphold their allegiance to the mission of this University, their dedication to the service of all people, and their devotion to the ideals of their faith.

OLD NASSAU

H.P. Peck, Class of 1862
Professor Karl A. Langlotz

Organ Solo, then the people will sing:

Tune ev'ry heart and ev'ry voice, Bid ev'ry care withdraw;
Let all with one accord rejoice, In praise of Old Nassau.
In praise of Old Nassau we sing, Hurrah! Hurrah! Hurrah!
Our hearts will give, while we shall live, Three cheers for Old Nassau!
And when these walls in dust are laid, With reverence and awe,
Another throng shall breathe our song, In praise of Old Nassau.
In praise of Old Nassau we sing, Hurrah! Hurrah! Hurrah!
Our hearts will give, while we shall live, Three cheers for Old Nassau!

BENEDICTION

Reverend Theresa S. Thames

HYMN

Hymn to Joy

Ludwig van Beethoven
(1770-1827)

Joyful, Joyful, We Adore You

Reverend Henry van Dyke, Poem
Class of 1873 and Princeton University Professor of English
(1852-1933)

I

Joyful, joyful, we adore you, God of glory, God of love;
Hearts unfold like flowers before you, opening to the sun above.
Melt the clouds of sin and sadness, drive the storms of doubt away;
Giver of immortal gladness, fill us with the light of day.

II

All your works with joy surround you, earth and heaven reflect your rays,
Stars and angels sing around you, center of unbroken praise,
Field and forest, vale and mountain, flowery meadow, flashing sea,
Chanting bird and flowing fountain, teach us what our praise should be.

III

You are giving and forgiving, ever blessing, ever blessed,
Well-spring of the joy of living, ocean depth of happy rest!
Loving Spirit, Father, Mother, all who love belong to you;
Teach us how to love each other, by that love our joy renew.

IV

Mortals, join the mighty chorus which the morning stars began;
Boundless love is reigning o'er us, reconciling race and clan.
Ever singing, move we forward, faithful in the midst of strife,
Joyful music leads us onward in the triumph song of life.

RECESSIONAL

Gravement from Pièce d'Orgue, BWV 572

Johann Sebastian Bach
(1685-1750)

The congregation will please remain standing until the procession has left the chapel.
