Center for CAREER Development

PRINCETON UNIVERSITY

The Center for Career Development's mission is to empower students to develop the insights, experience and connections to pursue personally meaningful careers throughout their lives.

What we do

The Center for Career Development supports all students to:

- identify their values, interests, skills, and strengths
- explore a wide range of opportunities to build experience
- pursue internships, jobs and further education

Learning Outcomes

CAREER LEARNING AREA 1: EVALUATE

Students will learn to...

- Clarify their values, interests, strengths and skills
- Articulate their transferable, liberal arts, graduate school, and work-related skills
- Identify and research a wide variety of career fields and opportunities

CAREER LEARNING AREA 2: ENGAGE

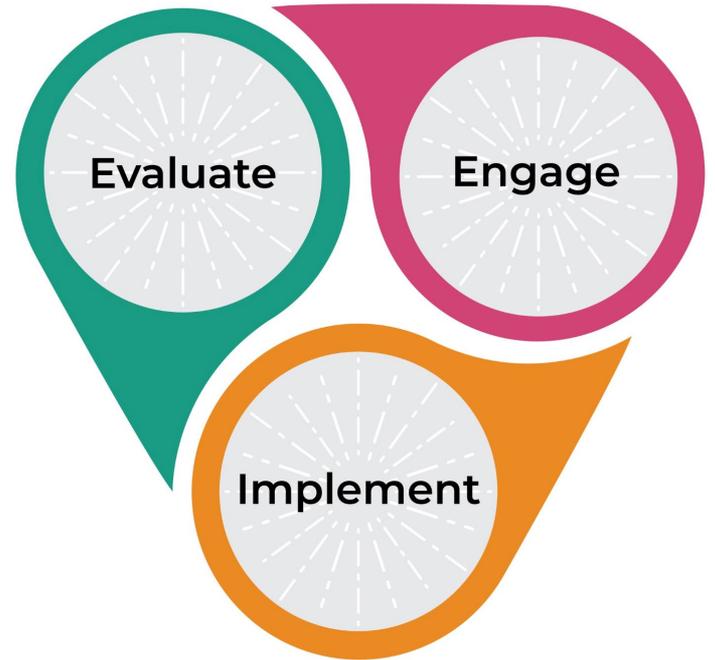

Students will learn to...

- Cultivate a professional network and engage in informational interviews
- Gain experience and insight through site visits job shadowing and internships
- Evaluate the environmental fit of a variety of work settings and roles

CAREER LEARNING AREA 3: IMPLEMENT

Students will learn to...

- Market themselves effectively to prospective employers (through written documents, online presence and skillful interviews)
- Identify and use relevant tools in the job search, including activating professional networks
- Understand and plan for future educational pursuits (grad school, professional credentials, professional development, etc.)

Signature programs

Princeternship Take a PhD to Work

Princeternships (undergraduate) and Take a PhD to Work (graduate) can range from a one-day shadowing experience to a two- to five-day shadowing with project experience. Students gain insights into the career path of their host (frequently an alum), learn about possible fields and gain tangible experience. Princeternships occur during reading period or intersession, and opportunities span a range of geographic regions.

Signature program

Meetups

Meetups allow students to connect with alumni and professionals working in a specific industry. Students have the opportunity to learn about their career paths, organizations and get valuable advice. Meetups are intended for exploration and are typically not recruiting events. Examples of 2018-2019 Meetups include Social Impact Careers and Startups.

Signature program

Dinner with 12 Tigers

Dinner with 12 Tigers is a program that brings together current students and alumni of similar underrepresented backgrounds (race, identity, culture, first-gen, low socioeconomic status and more) for candid conversation over a meal.

New!

Sophomore Career Kickoff

New for Jan./Feb. 2020: Provide sophomores an opportunity to explore the wide range of career possibilities available to them after they graduate through an intensive weekend event with staff and alumni participants.

Volunteer to Help Students

Alumni play a critical role in assisting Princeton undergraduate and graduate students in their career exploration. Whether it's through a casual conversation, participating in our on-campus recruiting program or anything in between, you can offer valuable advice, insight and experience that has a significant impact for students.

We invite you to partner with us for student-alumni engagement opportunities year round. If you are interested in volunteering, email us at careervolunteer@princeton.edu.
