Reimagining Texas Independence Through 21st Century Eyes

Please join us in person (or by Zoom) for a discussion of Texas Independence with Raúl Ramos '89. A member of the History faculty at the University of Houston since 2002, Raúl is a thought leader on 19th Century Texas history, including the ethnic and racial elements of iconic events like the Alamo and the Battle of San Jacinto.

Where: African American History Research Center
1300 Victor St, Houston, TX 77019

When: February 18th, 2-4 pm

Questions? Contact David Chaumette '89 (dchaumette@gmail.com)
